EXPERIENCE

With 25+ years of experience in corporate and educational experience, Marie Hoffman brings wisdom and warmth to each and every voiceover project. Her voice has been described as articulate, friendly and believable. Whether it's narrating an audiobook, an e-learning module or an online learning tutorial, a telephone voice mail, whiteboard video or a public service announcement, she brings the words to life. She makes difficult scripts easy to understand. Her corporate background includes publishing, investment banking and years in the pharmaceutical industry, but she is well-versed in all business jargon. Marie also taught elementary school for many years, so adjusting the tone and tempo of scripts for children is a breeze. Marie is great to work with, understands and respects your deadlines.
